

"Strategic consulting solutions promoting a connected community"

Liz Wooten-Reschke, MPA, CGT
President/CEO & Lead Consultant

BIOGRAPHY

Liz Wooten-Reschke serves as President of Connectivity Community Consulting, Inc. a company that works primarily with nonprofits in the Tampa Bay community and state of Florida. As lead consultant she's worked collaboratively with her clients since 2009 to create strategic consulting solutions addressing a variety of areas: nonprofit capacity & community building, board empowerment & engagement, organizational development, training & workshop facilitation, coaching & mentoring, and philanthropic advising. She provides trainings on topics such as best practices in board governance, the next generation of nonprofit leadership, and meaningful board service. Liz also facilitates strategic planning and board retreats for nonprofits ready to address agency change and growth opportunities. Her consulting clients include those interested in making meaningful connections in their local communities and the nonprofit sector including: the National School Foundation Association, Gulf Coast Community Foundation, Allegany Franciscan Ministries, and ALF Association Florida Chapter. Whatever the topic of expertise, Liz's work places focus on community building and resource sharing to help an organization and individuals meet their mission.

Over her 20 plus years of experience in the nonprofit sector, Liz has served in a variety of capacities including volunteer, staff, board member and consultant for various nonprofit agencies in the Tampa Bay and Key West communities, state of Florida, and the United States. Past staff positions include Girl Scouts of West Central Florida, Nonprofit Leadership Center of Tampa Bay, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and the Florida Holocaust Museum. She has served as a member of the Association of Fundraising Professionals, Social Enterprise Alliance, Young Nonprofit Professionals Network, League of Women Voters, Daughters of the American Revolution, and Emerge Tampa. She most recently served as the founding Board President of Nonprofit Consultants Connection, a membership association of peer consultants that promotes excellence in the field of nonprofit consulting. Liz also served as Board Vice-President for Are You Safe, a nonprofit agency advocating against domestic violence and providing free legal assistance to victims. She is a Life Member of the USF Alumni Association, a BoardSource Certified Governance Trainer and a member of the Allegany Franciscan Ministries' Grant Review Committee. Liz recently published her first book Board Engagement & Empowerment in the Fundraising Process as part of a five-part Fundraising Success series based on her online Udemy.com course.

Before her career in the nonprofit sector, she worked as an English teacher and dance-team coach in the Florida public school system teaching both high school and middle school in Tampa and Key West. These experiences as well as the many educators in her family have instilled a deep belief that continual education is crucial to individual and agency success. Through her current work in the nonprofit sector she develops training courses and curriculum that integrate her love of teaching with her knowledge of nonprofit best practices. Liz first moved to Tampa Bay to pursue her Bachelor's degree in Secondary English Education at the University of South Florida, where she also earned her Masters in Public Administration and Certificate in Nonprofit Management. Prior to moving to Tampa to pursue higher education, she lived in her hometown of Key West. She is a fourth generation Floridian with a passion for education, the arts and animal rights, and an active mother of two children and two dogs.
